

Transforming Culture...Transforming Results - Creating a Culture of True Accountability

TOP TIPS FOR LEADING DURING DIFFICULT TIMES; WHAT DOES THE SCIENCE TELL US!

This two hour Webinar explores the environmental factors that influence engagement. We explore the key areas of focus for leaders seeking to uncover individual performance potential during difficult times. We review a well-known model that guides us to better understanding. Practical tools and techniques are shared with key information that all leaders need in order to create an environment where personal accountability and vitality can emerge.

Leading During Difficult Times; What the Science Tells Us!

This webinar series will explore the science of what happens to the human being when under threat, how to identify when you are in heightened threat mode and what to do about it.

We will explore The Accountability Model and how it assists with resiliency and balance.

We will also discuss how our employees may be feeling and how we can reduce their stress as we all lead during crisis.

Topics Covered:

Topics:

- The threat response and levels of stress
- Overview of the SCARF Model
- Specific Tools for mitigating our stress and engaging our employees
- Brain Science
- Overview of the Self-Accountability Model

What senior leaders have said:

"I love Yvonne's work, passion, energy and philosophy. I would recommend her programs with no hesitation. It has been fundamental to my personal and professional growth and shift in happiness. I learned key tools from Yvonne that I continue to use for myself and my team."

Michelle Periera, VP Marketing and Communications, Habitat for Humanity Manitoba

"I was blown away by Yvonne's presentation- she was a breath of fresh air and the highlight of the whole conference. I loved the way she was able to take concepts and recent findings in New World science and other fields and make them accessible and applicable. I have been able to use this information in my daily life at work and at home. I would highly recommend her work."

Richelle Starke, MTL AKINS LAW

This webinar is provided to internal intact leadership teams.

We also periodically provide public offerings.

Simply contact Yvonne Thompson, Founder and Managing Director

Ythomson@changeinnovators.com

www.changeinnovators.com

Currently supporting clients in Canada, USA, Britain, Europe and Africa.