

The Future of Leadership, Making the Culture Connection

In a world of constant change, one thing remains certain: the future will differ from today's. We invite you to tap into your curiosity as we discuss "The Future of Leadership: Making the Culture Connection".

Join us in this engaging panel discussion as we explore the crucial link between people, leadership, and the culture they create. We will discuss:

What's love got to do with it? Explore the profound impact of compassion and love in leadership with Yvonne Thompson, who will shed light on how cultivating a culture of love can transform business and drive accountability, ownership, and success.

Dive into neuroscience with Dr. Carlos Davidovich as he shares the five-brain concept and its implications for leadership in an ever-evolving world.

Engage in an open Q&A session – a golden opportunity to share your ideas, fire up your questions, and share your unique perspectives. Your ideas have the power to transform the way we lead.
